Live Chamber of Commerce For Furthering Welfare of City Urged at Mass Meeting

Temporary Organization Formed, With C. M. Stone as Chairman.

ITS NECESSITY STRESSED

alleged Preliminary to Discuss Revision of Freight Rates, Commerce Comes to the Conclusion That First Step Must Be Formation of Trade Body.

The very pressing need of a chamber of commerce in this city and the necessity of the organization of such a body at once was stressed by most everyone who spoke at the mass meeting at City Hall Thursday night held primarily for the purpose of discussing freight rates in the region and determining what could be done to remedy that matter.

The round of talk usually started with the conditions on the roads related to the small growth the city has made in the past 10 years voiced the need of a chamber of commerce and came back to the railroad rate question only to again face the need of an commerce body to take up such affairs and deal with them in a manner which would produce better results than when taken up by individuals.

About half a hundred persons attended the meeting including a number of women. There were several uppers in the body attacked by the men of a discussion of freight rates. It citizens of Connellsville they expressed themselves as very much in favor of live commerce body being organized.

Major Mitchell opened the meeting and then appointed Councilman C. M. one who fathered the idea chair an. The final result of all discussions was the naming of officers of a temporary organization which will endeavor to meet and function along the lines of a Chamber of Commerce until it may be possible to organize such a body.

C. M. Stone was named temporary chairman of the committee and L. C. Coore secretary. The first meeting will be next Thursday night at which all business men of the city, interested in the welfare of Connellsville, are asked to attend.

Mr. Stone gave some data concerning freight rates, and others in the audience also spoke along same lines. He felt the city was being discriminated against others who were not so inclined, but said they thought the railroads were not doing all they could. Councilman Stone made plain that a meeting was not called for organization of shippers in a fight against particular railroad. Neighboring towns were agitating regarding the same referring to the work being conducted by the allied commerce bodies, a number of West Virginia towns he wanted Connellsville to be in position to take advantage of any thing which might otherwise be lost cause the city didn't go after it.

NEW YORK March 3—Two scows of bottled whisky of a brand popular pre-Volstead days were seized today in West Chester creek on 17th street and the seven men comprising the crew placed under arrest. In a speech Lester declared his belief that the liquor had been smuggled on steamer from Cuba. Three flat-boats transported the several thousand bottles to a police station.

Trucks lumbering down to the wharf in an early hour and unusual number of lights on the scows aroused suspicion and led to the arresting of the crew.

New Postmaster General Is Known In This Section

Persons in Fayette and adjoining counties who were students at the Southwestern State Normal School in 1918-19 will no doubt recall that Dr. Herbert Work who was yesterday nominated by President Harding, to be postmaster general was a fellow student.

At that time he was known as plain Hubie Work and was made conspicuous in the student body by the heavy flowing black mustache which he sported and in the continual trading of which he took no little pride.

He came to California from Indiana county where he was born. After leaving the Normal he attended the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, and the University of Michigan at which he studied medicine.

Mr. Brown gave his report to Mr. Harding, and it has been on the President's desk for some time. It is understood the President expects to submit it himself to Congress with any modifications he may wish to make in the near future. The rearrangement plan has merely been waiting on President's list, and after he should have his wife's advice report to Congress.

Unhappily in the meantime a host of opposition has developed. The chairman of the committee on which he reported is the combining of the War and Navy Department into one department to be known as the Department of National Defense.

It was appointed first assistant postmaster general by President Harding when the latter took office upon the resignation of Postmaster General Ulysses D. Work, who was considered as being in every way entitled to become his successor which was the view of President Harding and also of the Senate which promptly confirmed his nomination.

GIVE A BABY SYRUP PEPSIN

Constipation, biliousness and like annoying ills will quickly disappear.

A MOTHER is always anxious to give the safest and best medicine to a constipated baby, but is puzzled which to select. Let her decide by the ingredients on the package.

Every bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepin has the formula printed plainly on the outside of the carton under the portrait of Dr. Caldwell, who wrote the prescription in 1892. You will find that it is a combination of Egyptian Senna and other simple laxative herbs with peppermint oil not griping the body, and it is free from aromatic oil. A bottle sufficient to last a family several months can be had at any drug store, and the cost is only about a cent a dose.

Half-Ounce Bottle Free.—Few escape constipation, so even if you do require a laxative at this moment let me send you a half-ounce trial bottle of my Syrup Pepin. It costs only 15 cents. This little bottle is handy when needed. Simply send your name and address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 314 Washington St., Monaca, Pa. Write me today.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAR. 3, 1922.

A NEW CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

The meeting of citizens to consider the freight rate situation developed no fact more clearly than that one of the community's greatest needs at this time is a live, wide-awake and well organized chamber of commerce. Stated differently it might be said that such a need has again been emphasized.

In the very nature of things all questions like readjustment or equalization of freight rates, require such a body to handle them. A committee of citizens selected from the shippers of the city might be fully qualified to deal with such questions, but without an organization like a chamber of commerce behind them they would be under more or less of a handicap in that they would, in a measure, feel themselves to be acting alone.

But freight rates is only one of a host of questions with which it is the function of a chamber of commerce to deal. At frequent intervals matters come up which, in the absence of such an organization, nobody in the city feels authorized to consider or deal with to the extent required. The result is that in recent years the city has lost several good opportunities to be of service to local enterprises or attract new undertakings. This has been a permanent loss. The only way that it can in part be recouped is to equip ourselves with an up-to-date chamber of commerce having the initiative, courage and resources needed to meet the situations as they arise.

It has been the history of public bodies of this class in Connellsville that without the wholehearted cooperation and support of the citizens comparatively little progress can be made. With this experience in mind a reorganization of a chamber of commerce ought to be approached in such an attitude and disposition as will enable every person to merge their individual interests in the larger interest of the community, and with the determination to join hands on every issue the ultimate object of which is to promote the material welfare of all the people.

To further assure the success of such an organization its membership should include every business and manufacturing enterprise, every professional man, and every citizen who has a concern for the future of Connellsville or who at any time has given, and at this particular time is giving, serious thought as to what the community must do to maintain property values, expand its business and provide more opportunities for gainful employment of the young men and women who are arriving at that period in life when they must find it here or go elsewhere.

It is encouraging to note that the first steps have been taken toward a revival of a chamber of commerce along these lines. If the people realize that this is to be their organization and that its success or failure will be wholly dependent upon the degree of their loyalty and cooperation, it will get somewhere as an agency for boosting Connellsville, not for a day but permanently.

ABSENTEES.

"Absent" was the sycophantic office holder, ready to perform lackey duty for the bosses.

"Absent" was the colored brother, resplendent, vociferous, and self-imported.

"Absent" was the shifty ward boss with the fishy eye and the clammy handshake, whose chief claim to distinction lies in his readiness to pad a registry card, stuff a ballot box or bribe a corrupt voter.

"Absent" was the boss to whom the place holder, the colored brother and the ward heelers tendered obeisance and before whom they grovelled."

From this list of personages absent from the New Freedom Disarmament Conference, prepared by the personal representative of the Official Organ "at the front," there is the strange, singular and unexplained omission of the name of Judge Eugene C. Bonnell, the militant leader of the Old Guard who corralled half a million votes as Democratic standard bearer in the gubernatorial campaign four years ago.

Yet we are solemnly assured that this was a "get-together" meeting of all shades of Democratic faith, belief and practice and that it "denounced factionalism and party strife as little less than treason in this hour" when the New Freedom forces are striving to drive an entering wedge into the ranks of the Republicans as a means of overcoming the depletion in their own, due to the determined refusal of the Old Guard to deliver up the guardianship of the ark of the covenant of Democracy in the Keystone state.

We are assured that Disarmament Conference Chairman Sterling "has not stopped at constituting a committee to select a state ticket." Certainly not. Nothing short of personally handpicking the ticket to be ostensibly named by the 72 "handpickers" will satisfy the chairman's bouding ambitions as Big Chief or otherwise be in accord with the practices of himself and the inner council of New Freedom.

THE WAITER.

I met him in a college town a youngster with a grin. And he was swishing up the floor when I was ushered in. When I had registered my name, he put aside his binoculars to grab my suitcase from the floor and show me to my room.

That night at dinner I beheld that youngster at my side. "We've poison and lamb," said he to me, "We've poison and lamb, or fried" Where I had made my choice of food, he gravely went away. And when he next appeared he had my dinner on a tray.

"So you're a waiter too?" said I. "I'm a waiter, soft and low." "Three times a day it is my job the dishes round to throw. I'm full hop in the afternoons, between times in the clerks. But I can get my lesson when I've finished up my work."

"I'm on my way through college, and I'm paying for it here. Some day I'll check this job and be a civil engineer."

I want an education, and the only way I had Was to come and be a waiter, for I haven't any dad."

I don't know how to say it, but someday I know I'll hear. If I still am with the living, of a civil engineer.

Who's earned his way to glory, and say? "There stands the waiter of what little college town."

DARKEN GRAY HAIR, LOOK YOUNG, PRETTY

Sage Tea and Sulphur Darkens So

Naturally That Nobody

Can Tell.

Vanderbilt

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.—Advertisement

Give It Gude's Pepto-Mangan—for Thirty Years Doctors' Favorite Tonic.

Children that grow too fast and play too hard or perhaps work too hard at school (Oh, yes, some children do work too hard at school) become pale and a little run-down, and then mothers and fathers become worried about them. The youngsters do not eat with their usual big appetites, and so they become thin and tire easily. There is a simple and good remedy for this. It is Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the tonic rich in a certain form of iron that is readily absorbed by the system. Gude's Pepto-Mangan, the tonic rich in a certain form of iron that is readily absorbed by the system. Gude's Pepto-Mangan will soon put the color back into the children's cheeks and give them the kind of an appetite every mother loves to see. It is sold by druggists in two forms—liquid and tablet—and is absolutely safe to give to any child. Ask your home doctor what he thinks about Gude's Pepto-Mangan.—Advertisement

LIVE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE FOR CITY URGED

Mrs. W. O. Schoonover was asked her opinion, and she also declared herself heartily in favor of a Chamber of Commerce.

"I can't see why we do not have one," she said. "We can't have anything which is going to be a benefit without costing us something. The trouble in Connellsville is that people won't make sacrifices and cooperate. That is why we can't get anywhere."

R. V. Rendino made a motion that a committee of business men form a temporary organization to meet separately or with Council to work out some matters essential to the needs of the city. J. C. Musson was made temporary chairman and then C. M. Stone was elected temporary chairman of the organization and E. C. Moore, temporary secretary.

The body will hold its first meeting, open to the public, at the council chambers at 7:30 o'clock next Thursday evening.

Bran Will Free Your Entire Family from Constipation!

EIGHT MILLION PEOPLE were admitted to the hospitals of America last year. Nine-tenths of the sickness can be traced to constipation. If every man, woman and child would eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumblod each day, nine-tenths of all sickness would be eliminated!

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumblod, is a "remedy." It is not a health food. Bran acts as a sweeper, at the same time cleansing and purifying without irritation or discomfort! Results are astounding!

Physicians endorse the use of Kellogg's Bran for constipation because it is a nutritive cereal food—not as a "remedy." Your physician will tell you that the desirable way to relieve constipation is through food. We guarantee Kellogg's

J. Radney, Inc., near Moyers, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Freed. For the past 11 years she had made her home with her son, J. A. DeMuth, at Glendale. Her husband, Stricker DeMuth, a veteran of the Civil War, preceded her in death. In addition to her son at Glendale she is survived by a son, W. H. DeMuth of Pasco, Wash.; a daughter, Mrs. Jennie M. Monroe of Ontario; one sister, Mrs. Rebecca Long of Connellsville, and two brothers, C. S. Freed of Dunbar township and J. N. Freed of Connellsville. A son, Dr. J. S. DeMuth of Pittsburgh, died recently. Mrs. DeMuth was a member of the West Glendale Methodist Episcopal Church and took a keen interest in the church affairs.

The Legion Is Not Dominated by Any Religion, Says Head

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 3.—An article entitled "Rome Leads the American Legion," published in "The Protestant" at Washington, D. C., has brought a quick reply from Stanford MacNider, commander of the Legion. In his letter to the editor, Mr. MacNider declared that his religious affiliations are of no consideration to the Legion.

"This country was formed by men who sought religious tolerance and it is that spirit which has made it free and worth living in," the Legion commander wrote. "It happens to be a Protestant and attend a Protestant church, but as a member of many Masonic bodies, in which I have taken a more or less active part, I have great admiration for that institution, the Roman Catholic Church. It stands and its teachings for the preservation of the integrity of our laws, government were well exemplified in the heroic deaths of the men who served in my command. And might I add that the chaplains of that faith gave a human touch to their splendid service that made them beloved by all—Jew, Protestant, and Catholic alike."

The American Legion is an organization of returned service men and women holding together in an endeavor to continue their service to their country in peace as well as in war as constructive citizens. Religion in Legion membership is no more a question than it is in American citizenship, nor can it be brought into Legion affairs. It was not a question when man stepped out to join the colors and defend his country. It will never be a question in our service as Legion men.

"Such propaganda as you are spreading is a menace to America and America's institutions. How a man worships his God is his own business and not yours."

O'Toole Leaves for Post.
William J. O'Toole of Welsh, W. Va., sailed from New York yesterday for Paraguay, South America, where he will represent the United States as minister. Mr. O'Toole will be the youngest representative from the United States to any foreign country. He is a son of William O'Toole, formerly of the Connellsville region, but for many years general superintendent of the United States Coal & Coke Corporation.

SHORTAGE OF FUNDS STILL FACES COUNCIL

SOUTH CONNELLSVILLE, March 3.—The South Connellsville borough council held its regular monthly meeting last evening. A number of bills were paid. The borough is still short of funds and will be unable to repair roads or do anything along the financial line, until they get some money in the treasury. No important business was transacted.

The next game of basketball for Captain will be with the American Legion team in the City League Monday evening at the Parochial Hall, the same night that Unity Fraternity team meets the Snyder F. C. The Captain has laid off basketball almost all of this week in preparation for the coming game with the Legion and will do its best to win.

The girls' game, which was postponed last week, has not been rescheduled as yet. There are a number of basketball fans who would like to see a good girls' game played on the Captain Court and are still hoping that the game will be scheduled again.

"SCRAP IRON," in which Charles Ray gives you the greatest ring fight you've ever seen, with a play of vivid action, humor and a sort now and then, is being shown today and will also be the principal attraction tomorrow. "Scrap Iron" is the most ambitious effort to date. While retaining a great deal of the humor which has made him so popular, in "Scrap Iron" he has a role which exacts heavy demands upon him for emotional acting. He meets them with the highest sort of efficiency.

In the role of John Steel he is the only support of a widowed invalid mother. Efforts to advance himself cost him his job. A promise to his mother to stop taking part in amateur boxing matches costs him the respect of his fellow workers. Refusal to hit a drunken man costs him his girl.

His efforts bring back to him everything he has lost in one of the most dramatic ring scraps that has ever been staged. He finds he doesn't want his girl or his friends back. He has learned their worthlessness. The money is satisfaction enough for him, for it holds out a promise of health for his mother. Verne Stedman, Lydia Knott and Tom Wilson have prominent parts in the cast.

THE PARAMOUNT.

"RED COURAGE," starring Hoot Gibson, is the leading attraction today and tomorrow at this theatre.

"Red Courage" is a vivid story of a political fight in the western town of Panamint. It takes a Peter B. Kyne to paint the picture of the absorbingly human characters who live and love throughout the five reels.

Interwoven into this picturesque back-ground is a two-fisted story of a fight—the fight of a man against tremendous odds—the fight against the corrupt influences of a crooked political gang—the fight of a man for a girl's love.

Hoot Gibson, as the smiling, happy-go-lucky Pinto Pete, who falls heir to a one-horse newspaper, "The Panamint Gazette," is still Hoot Gibson—which is probably the greatest compliment that can be paid him. His easy-going, affable personality is irresistible in "Red Courage," where he has ample opportunity for displaying his famous fighting qualities.

THE ORPHEUM.

"KING, QUEEN, JOKER," the feature picture today and tomorrow at this theatre, presents Sydney Chaplin in the stellar role.

The kingdom of Corona is a beautiful country the king of which is disturbed by rumors of a coming revolution.

He refuses to grant the people a charter enabling them to trade with other nations, and a revolution is organized to secure his downfall. The chief plotter against the king discovers a barber's assistant who is the counterpart of the King and he promises him a fortune if he will do his bidding. The barber's assistant agrees to the proposition and that night the King is kidnapped and the barber takes his place in the palace, while the King is imprisoned in a dungeon.

Owing to the resemblance between the two men, the King's substitute is readily accepted as the King himself, even the queen failing to recognize the imposture. The barber is rather awkward in his new office, but this is attributed to the effects of drink. The plot is good and the situations are highly thrilling. It is a picture that is worth going far to see. It was written and directed by Mr. Chaplin. Lottie MacPherson plays opposite the star.

"BELL'S FAMOUS HAWAIIANS" renowned troupe of singing, playing, and dancing entertainers will be at the Orpheum Theatre all next week and as this attraction has created an unusual amount of interest.

The company is headed by M. R. Bell, who is looked upon as a leader of entertainers throughout the entire Island of Hawaii and his able cast includes Joe Rogierus, Joe Kalama, Harold Lihimai, including Princess Let Lehane, peer of Hawaiian hula dancer.

Not only is the entertainment offered by this organization different than usually seen, but it is replete with many novelties and specialties, singing and playing the latest American and Hawaiian popular song hits of the season.

The act is filled with the magical sounds of the stringed instruments such as one loves to hear, when played by the masters of this art during the 40 minutes of high-class entertainment afforded you by these clever artists.

Treat your beauty fairly! No matter how lovely your features are you cannot be truly attractive with a red blotchy oily skin.

Resinol Soap and Ointment make bad complexions smoother softer and generally charming.

Guard Against "Flu"With Musterole

Influenza, grippe and pneumonia all start with a cold. At the first sign of fever, the moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that goes right after congestion (which is what a cold really is) and restores normal circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the unpleasant sting and blister.

During the big "Flu" epidemic several years ago Musterole was used in our training camps. The Y. M. C. A. War Board sent thousands of jars to our boys in France. Doctors have been recommending it to their patients for years.

Just rub it on the congested parts with your finger tips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then comes a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

If there are colds in your house get Musterole on the job at once. It may prevent serious illness. It is a good plan to have Musterole always on the bathroom shelf for the emergency.

Sold by all druggists, 35c and 65c in jars and tubes; hospital size $3.00.

Howitzer Team Continues to Win; Medical Detachment Is Latest Victim; Score 48-26

The Howitzers' Company's basketball team decisively defeated the "crack" Medical Corps last evening by the score of 48-26, outplaying it in every department of the game except at foul shooting, but as the Howitzer team did not need fouls to win it didn't matter much.

The Medical team, better known as "pill-rollers," recently defeated the fast Company I team of Greensburg on the armory floor by a single tally.

The game was very interesting, the Howitzers showing the fans some good passing and team work that the "pill-rollers" were unable to break up. Another mystery to the medicals was the guarding system used by the Howitzers, they being unable to master it, and did most of their shooting from the middle of the floor. The Howitzers held the "pill-rollers" down to seven lonely field goals while in the meantime it scored 20 goals. Hume and Bufano were the leading

Storm Country Polly

It seemed to Polly Hopkins that every minute was an hour long, and every second filled with intolerable anxiety. Would the soft-hearted Larry repeat and surrender the prize she longed to get her fingers on?

In extreme nervousness she went from one thing to another, never finishing what she began. She paced the floor until she was dripping wet with apprehension. She had no means of knowing when Lye and Larry would come; so she dared not stir from the shack.

Many times she shored aside the window blind and looked out. But the world outside was wrapped in a white silence. She could not even glimpse the peaked roof of a fisherman's hut, for between her and the Silent City was a flowing curtain of snow, the flakes falling like feathers from an open bag.

Larry would keep his word, she told herself over and over. She was glad it was such a night! The better could the squatters carry out their death plan.

Unnoticed by the girl, the wood burned to embers in the stove, and the heat grew colder by degrees. In one of her half hours of measuring the shanty's length, she halted, breathing on her frost-bitten fingers. She drew about her shoulders the blanket which had covered Wee Jerry in his bed hours.

Her mind brought back to the baby away off in some unknown place, she cried weakly as she repiled the fire. Had the wicked ones of the earth made Jerry forget Daddy Hopkins who up in Auburn was ignorant of his whereabouts? Many times Polly had taken up her pencil to write him of the child, but it always dropped from her fingers before it reached the paper. Daddy could not do anything; and she would not add to his heavy burden.

She was at the stove, her cold, stiff fingers spread over it, when the sound of footsteps outside sent her headlong to the door. Appallingly terrified, she dragged it open.

Then, in deadening silence, Lye Braeger and Larry Bishop carried a large bundle through the doorway and threw it down on Polly's bed.

Heavy-lidded, the girl gazed upon it, her eyes widening in joy, joy at the thought of Old Marc's misery; joy at the thought of getting even. The triumphant emotion that surged through her bore relation only by contrast to the delights of a few months back, when her willing legs had trotted the country over to help every one that needed her. It wasn't the same, Polly at all. This Polly lifted her foot and kicked the bundle none too lightly.

"We had a h—l of a time gettin' 'er here, Polly," growled Lye Braeger. "Outside it's like if a million crazy devils was howlin' over the hills. But we brought 'er just the same! Now do what you like with 'er, brat!"

White teeth gleamed through the maniacal smile that parted the girl's lips. At last! She had lived through interminable days for nothing!

"Scoot out, you!" she ordered, waving her hand at them. "Don't keep a watch about till I get done!"

Braeger made for the door as if anxious to be gone; but Larry Bishop held to the spot where he stood.

"She's a woman, Polly Hopkins," he muttered, his eyes turning from the cot to the rigid girl. "It she is Old Marc's wife. He's home too, so Lye says."

"What do I care where the pup is?" she thrust in vehemently. "Course she's a woman! So be it; an' so were your dead Betsy."

Then she stamped her foot tempestuously.

"Get out of here an' watch for MacKenzie an' his folks," she snapped. "It's about time he were stormin' the Silent City. I'm thinkin'."

Roughly she shoved the men out into the blizzard and closed the door. Then she stood with her back to it, deep sobs racking her body.

Now as she had almost died, and Wee Jerry too, so would Marcus MacKenzie. The vicious hope that she could see him writhe in his grief took possession of her.

Distractedly she placed the bar across the door, making sure it was locked. Then, creeping to the cot, she gazed down at the wet bundle. There, where she had helped Oscar Bennett over dark rough places into the light of her bitterest enemy.

She uttered an exclamation when she saw a lifting shudder go over the thing on the bed. A snail fluttered across her face, and her hands came together convulsively.

Slowly she knelt down and unwrapped the thick blanket; and Five-in-MacKenzie was staring out at her dull eyed and terrified. A dark ring completely filled her mouth; and Polly grinned at her.

"Do you know what squatters do to chickens? They swipe from you rich folks?" she asked huskily.

Although she could not speak, Evelyn heard and understood. She closed her eyes, her face going drabber. In the flickering light, but at a sound the weary lids flew open again.

had come from the shack.
